Summer Camp Returns to the Woodrow Wilson Presidential Library

STAUNTON, VA – Register your campers for a week-long passport to adventure with the "History Explorers" summer camp at the Woodrow Wilson Presidential Library. This summer camp for ages 7-11 runs five days from June 27-July 1, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Campers will receive a "passport to history" while learning about the different people, countries, and historical events from 1856 to 1924. Campers will learn while engaging in technology, art, science, and more! Registration is $175 for non-members and $160 for members and includes a full week of activities. Registration can be found at <https://www.woodrowwilson.org/up-coming-events> and closes on Thursday, June 23.

Emily Kilgore, Director of Education and Engagement, explained, "The "History Explorers" Summer Camp is designed to instill children with knowledge and appreciation for history through various fun and educational experiences. The camp opens a window into a different facet of life in President Wilson's era (1856-1924) and provides a rich historical experience for young campers."

To register for the camp, please visit the Woodrow Wilson Presidential Library website at www.woodrowwilson.org. For questions or more information, please get in touch with the Education Department at the Presidential Library at educationdirector@woodrowwilson.org or by calling (540) 885-0897 ext. 122.

The Woodrow Wilson Presidential Library and Museum is an educational institution dedicated to the study of the life of President Wilson and the times in which he lived. In addition to welcoming museum visitors worldwide, the Presidential Library produces online and in-person educational programming for people of all ages. The Museum is located at 20 N. Coalter Street, Staunton, VA. For additional information, please contact Emily Kilgore, Director of Education and Engagement, at 540-885-0897 or visit www.woodrowwilson.org.
